Visit Summary (Details of inspection findings, if applicable include non-compliances and enforcement action issued)

Licensing Officer Andrea Giese conducted an unannounced regular monitoring inspection at the facility on February 11, 2025. Observations were conducted and a sample of program records were reviewed including children's attendance, portable records, programming, staff attendance, staff member's qualifications, police clearance and first aid certificates. The License along with the licensing inspection report were posted in the front entrance. The after-hours contact number was posted and visible from the outside. The program is in compliance with the Early Learning and Child Care Act and Regulations.

There were 5 children present with 2 educators during today's inspection. Children were engaged in activities throughout the room. Educators were spread apart in the room, and heard to engage in conversations with children about what they were interested in playing with that morning. A group of children were seated at a table exploring 3 sensory activities that were set out at one of the tables. The educator at the table was heard to support children's play and learning through open ended questions. When one child requested a snack from their lunch kit during free play, an educator sat with the child as they ate and engaged in conversations about the child's snack and what activities they would do once the child was finished.

In another area of the room, a child asked one of the educators to read a book in the reading area. The educator sat on the floor, and the child crawled into the educator's lap. Two other children were interested in the story and curled up in the small cozy tent to listen. The educator read the story to the children and was observed to allow children to interject their ideas about the story and pictures on each page. Once the story was done, a child noticed that the twinkle lights had fallen of the cozy tent. The educator supported the child through the use of verbal suggestions to reattach the lights to the edges of the tent.

A variety of play areas were set up for children to participate in as they were interested. This included a table set up with a variety of Valentine's Day craft supplies; two play doh trays with accessories; a penguin "small world" tray with fake snow, trees and miniature penguins; A large house area set up with a variety of materials; and a small tuff tray created from cardboard that contained fake rose petals, hearts and stones for children to sort with cups and muffin tins or egg cartons. There was a fully stocked art shelves with developmentally appropriate materials easily accessible to children. The program does not participate in off site activities, as they use the acro-studio for 45 minutes each day to work on gross motor skills and spatial awareness. The gross motor activities provided to children are based on interest and developmental abilities of the children in each group.

The need for guidance during today's inspection was minimal. Children were actively engaged in activities with educators. Quiet, calm voices were used with children. Children were observed to be comfortable with educators, and familiar with the days routine.

Supervision during today's inspection was adequate to support the safety, well-being and development of children. All children were signed into attendance, and educators were aware of the number of children in care. Educators positioned themselves in a manner that allowed for supervision of all children. The room has been arranged to allow for appropriate supervision for a large group of children.

A discussion about the outcome of today's inspection was conducted with the Program Supervisor. A copy of this Inspection Report was emailed to the program. As required by the Early Learning and Child Care Act, please ensure that this Inspection Report is posted in a prominent location at the facility.
